It’s been a great year at Radio Milwaukee High. We transitioned from virtual to being back together. We learned about inclusive innovators, explored Milwaukee with a scavenger hunt, made some new friends and announced exciting accomplishments of old friends. And as we head into next year, we are so incredibly excited about the future – all thanks to your support. Take a peek inside this past year at Radio Milwaukee High.

KEEP THE MUSIC PLAYING!

With fewer artists touring, Justin Barney had a unique idea about how to bring back live Studio Milwaukee Sessions for our supporters and in a way we never could if we were in-person.

Introducing the 88Nine World Tour!

Over the course of several months, we hosted Sessions with artists from six different continents!

And on November 5, we finally hosted our first in-person Session with Zella Day!

THE RADIO MILWAUKEE HIGH SCHOOL CODE OF HONOR

Through music and stories created for a culturally open-minded community, 88Nine Radio Milwaukee is a catalyst for creating a better, more inclusive and engaged Milwaukee. We reach a new generation of radio listeners with an entertaining and adventurous selection of music and public affairs programming.

We champion Milwaukee—our music, arts and culture, neighborhoods, and community organizations—celebrate diversity and encourage community engagement—while promoting a positive global identity for Milwaukee.

AMPLIFYING MILWAUKEE MUSIC
Dynamic duo Chad Roper and Britney Freeman-Farr (a.k.a. B-Free) led the 88Nine Amplifier program to help develop the careers of four Milwaukee musicians.

B-Free also manages Grace Weber’s Music Lab, a monthly music education program for high school youth. Students in the program this year performed at Summerfest and learned about a unique career path: music therapy.

The Development Team kicks off every morning watching Development Director Maggie Corry comb her hair.

Our Programming Team putting the “personality” in “radio personality.”

Artists Transform Three Moody Park Basketball Courts Into Active Mural

Near 22nd and Burleigh, there’s a park called Moody Park. It’s plopped right in the middle of the Amani neighborhood. And that park, in particular, is a real magnet. There’s a new splash pad, playground and picnic areas, plus the COA Youth and Family
